MISCELLANEOUS.

THE LATE GOVERNOR SEWARD.—The joint committee of the New York Legislature on the memorial to the late Mr. Seward has selected the Hon. Charles Francis Adams to deliver an oration in honor of the deceased statesman. Several reasons are said to have influenced the committee to request this service from a citizen of another State, rather than from any of the eloquent and able public men of New York, who would have performed it worthily. These reasons are thus stated by the Albany Journal:

"Among the ablest efforts of Governor Seward's life was his celebrated oration to John Quincy Adams. He also wrote a popular biography of the 'Old Man Eloquent,' and it was deemed peculiarly fitting that the eulogium upon himself should come from the living son of the dead President he had done so much to commemorate.

"Beyond this, there were intimate relations between Governor Seward and Charles Francis Adams, while in their character as statesmen they bear no little resemblance. It was while the former was Secretary of State that the latter was Minister to England, and both were closely associated in the momentous diplomatic correspondence growing out of the rebellion. The great ability of Mr. Adams as a statesman, and his high accomplishments as a scholar, furnish the assurance that, if he accept the invitation, his oration will be a worthy tribute to the departed statesman of New York."

HELL GATE

The River and Harbor Appropriation bill, reported to the national House of Representatives on Saturday last, devotes something less than $300,000 for the removal of obstructions in Hell Gate, although $600,000 was asked for by General Newton. The New York Evening Post, forcibly alludes to the desired improvements at Hell Gate as follows: General Newton's opinion on a subject of this sort should be implicitly relied upon, and if he says that there ought to be $600,000 expended on Hell Gate the current year, then Congress ought to appropriate that sum without hesitation. The difference between the amount asked for and that given will probably be lost between this and next January in the wrecking and collision of vessels in that dangerous navigation, much of which might be saved by a judicious and early expenditure of money. The Chamber of Commerce of New York, often as it has borne testimony to the importance of this subject, will at least do no harm if they shall bring the weight of their influence to bear again upon Congress. If the rocks at Hell Gate are really to be removed, and General Newton is, as nobody doubts, the man to do the work, where is the wisdom of doling out the money to him in insufficient sums? The sooner the work is done the better, and the engineer is the best judge of how fast he can do it and what he wants to do it with.

Monday, Senator Sprague, offered a bill in Congress, which was referred to the committee on public buildings and grounds to provide for the erection of a government building at North Providence, R. I.

King Amadeus has abdicted the throne of Spain, and it is announced in a despatch from the United States minister to Secretary Fish that the Cortes Tuesday evening adopted a republican form of government.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Various Matters.

—Next Friday is St. Valentine's Day.

—The Newport JOURNAL is printed this evening.

—The services at the Thames street Church continues during the week, every evening except Saturday.

—Carry Bros. 187 & 189 Thames street will receive to morrow 100 barrels of extra Western Greening apples.

—A gang of lawless urchins keep John street in an uproar, and disturb the residents thereof by ringing door bells and adding insult to injury when remonstrated with. Four boys were arrested yesterday, and if they got their just deserts will be prosecuted.

—In our report of the resignation of Thomas Clarke as Superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday School we attributed the act to ill health. We are glad to be able to say that such is not the case, as Mr. Clarke is in good condition and well able to work.

—Our readers who are afflicted with the maladies, to the cure of which Dr. Lightbill gives his attention will not fail to read his column advertisement in another part of this paper and govern themselves accordingly. He may be found at the Perry House to-morrow, day and evening.

—A fellow who was put off a train on the Old Colony Railroad on Saturday for attempting to ride on a punched ticket, had the coolness to stop the steamboat train by standing on the track and swinging his carpet bag. He said he thought the train would stop for him, and he was allowed to ride on paying his fare.

—A large number of tickets for the Old Folks Concert in the Aquidneck Assembly Rooms, and from the present indications there will be a full house to-morrow night. The peformers have had constant practice for some time, and it is now clear that this will be one of the very best concerts ever given by this choir, of the Union Congregational Church. The proceeds are to be appropriated for the benefit of the church.

ROBBERY.—Hugh Carson a boiler shop workman was on a spree last night, so said, and this morning reports himself robbed of nearly $300 in money. His condition was such that he cannot give any account of himself or his whereabouts at the time.—The fellow cannot command much sympathy for his loss, even if he gets credit for his story. Steps have been taken by the city officers for the recovery of the money and the arrest of the thief.

THEATRICAL.—The Newport Dramatic Association, through having a fair house last evening, did not meet with the greeting its talent deserves, for we write a truism when we state that we have seen traveling professionals with less merit than these amateurs of our own city. There were of course imperfections, but they were few and the plays being somewhat lengthy, far between. The bill last evening included the drama of Ernest Maltravers or the Brigands of Italy, and the farce of Barney the Baron. The music which was furnished by the orchestra of the Newport Brass Band, was quite smooth and its excellence elicited applause several times during the evening. We yet hope to record a crowded audience for our amateur dramatic association. Our play goers should not forsake it when at the hands of stock companies they have fared so much worse than ever they can be treated by the N. D. A.

Novel Terpsechorean Festivities.

The Ghost Assembly of which so much has been said is now a matter for record.—The novel entertainment commenced last night and closed this morning in a very decorus and happy manner and so far as we can learn "nobody is hurt." For a fortnight past the usually unpleasant subject of ghosts has had an attraction for the minds of many, and without troublingly questioning the existence of ghosts, the query has been how to effectually appear in the ghostly role. Of course an affair of this character required that certain regulations should be observed and one of the leading ghosts issued with his card of honor a proclamation wherein the law of the Assembly was detailed. In brief, every gentleman and lady should appear in white dominoes with hood and such masks as they desired. Except in such attire, no person could be admitted to the floor. The "pass" was the exhibition of the masked face to a special committee at the door. The gallery was reserved for spectators, which was an admirable provision in case anybodys scalp should present an array of porcupine quills. Dancing at half-past eight o'clock. At the time just mentioned; the Aquidneck Assembly Rooms were crowded with an elegant company and Prof. Frank's orchestra set the ball in motion, Mr. Frank Vaughn, of Providence, appearing as prompter. The ghosts presented themselves to the number of one hundred. "On with the dance; let joy be unconfined!" was the order and action till nearly "the hours when churchyards yawn," at which time a free and easy moving member of the Assembly mounted the prompter's box and in a most felicitous manner congratulated everybody present upon the complete success of the ghostly visit to the hall, and after thanking, as if by authority, the committee of arrangements, recommended a temporary visit to regions below where Mr. John Ramsden would welcome them in a most hospitable manner. The word was then given to unmask and the chief feature of the evening created much merriment. Three or four young gentlemen stared at young men partners who had been playing the part of the "woman in white," but in general the ghosts had been well mated. Especially in the vicinity where the NEWS reporter had stationed himself were some of the most lovely looking impromptu ghosts to be imagined, and we venture for Newport a boast of pretty young ladies. The spread by Mr. Ramsden proved all that Mr. J. B. Brayton had indicated and the tempting manner in which it was set forth was highly creditable to the caterer's eye for beauty. After supper, dancing was resumed and continued until early morning after the manner of an "every day" social, the ghosts retiring in keeping with their traditionary reputation at midnight. The gentlemen of the committee to whom credit is due for the novel and decidedly successful entertainment are as follows: Henry Ball, chairman; J. J. Powel, Secretary, and Messrs. David Pinnegar, Albert O. Landers, T. M. Seabury, 2nd, Albert Austin, Benjamin Davis, H. J. Hudson, Jr., and W. J. Cozzens. These gentlemen have added much to the life of Newport this winter, and with many others we impatiently await their next move.

Death of a State Senator.

The Hon. Joseph Wood, Senator from the town of Lincoln, died suddenly Tuesday morning at his residence in Central Falls, in the seventieth year of his age. Mr. Wood was in his seat Monday, apparently in his usual health. He was a very highly esteemed citizen, a leading member of the Congregational Church, and a man whose loss will be deeply felt in the community where he dwelt.

Boiler Explosion in Warren.

PROBABLY FATAL RESULT.

An alarm of fire was sounded by the church bells in Warren yesterday morning about five o'clock, which was caused by a boiler explosion in the boiler house of the Warren Manufacturing Company's Mill No. 2. The boiler house was completely shattered and made a wreck of. One section of four boilers was thrown from the beds, and one-half (lengthwise) of the one that exploded was thrown on the roof of the building, and the other half ended up. The explosion was not caused by lack of water for the other boilers were well supplied at the usual time of starting up the mill. The most distressing part of all was the very serious, if not fatal injuries received by Mr. George O. Ashworth. Mr. Ashworth was watchman in the mill, and had been for many years. He was clearing the fires under the boilers at the time of the explosion and was thrown partly through a door and an iron door fell upon him. One leg was broken and his limbs were badly shattered. He was scalded so that the outer flesh peels off, and he undoubtedly inhaled the steam. He had his senses at last accounts but the chances are reported very much against his recovery. The suspension of the work in the mill will not be long, as the new engine and boilers for the new mill are nearly ready for starting. These were to run mill No. 2, as well as the new mill. A large number of workmen were engaged to clear away the ruins. The building and boilers presented a sorry looking sight.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE ART OF MAKING MONEY.—One great cause of the poverty of the present day is the failure of many people to appreciate small things. They say if they cannot have large sums, they will not have anything. They do not realize how a daily addition, be it ever so small, will make a large sum. If the young men and women of to-day will only begin, and begin now, to save a little from their earnings, and invest it in some savings bank, and weekly or monthly add to their mite, they will wear a happy smile of content and independence when they reach middle life. Not only the pile itself will increase, but the ability and desire to increase it will soon grow. Let the clerk and tradesman, laborer and artisan, make now and at once a beginning. Store up some of your force and vigor for future contingency. Let parents teach their children to begin early to save. Begin at the foundation head to control the stream of extravagance, and then the work will be easy to choose between poverty and riches. Let our youth go on in the way of extravagance for fifteen years to come, as they have for fifty years past, and we shall have a nation of beggars with a mongrel aristocracy. Let a generation of such as save in small sums be reared, and we shall be free from want. Do not be ambitious for extravagant fortunes, but seek that which it is the duty of every man to obtain—independence and a comfortable home. Wealth in sufficient abundance is within the reach of all. It can be had by only one process—saving.

CARRYING OUT THE JOKE.—While we were lying in camp at Rossville, Georgia, writes a correspondent, the Sixth Illinois returned from their furlough with a number of recruits. One of these having exhausted his supply of clean shirts, and not having learned to be his own laundress, asked a veteran where he could get some washing done.

"Do you see those tents there by the church? well, go there and ask Mr Morgan; he does washing. He's a crusty old cuss, but if you talk pretty nice to him he'll do it for you."

The recruit went as directed, and found Gen. Morgan walking in front of his tent, dressed, as was his custom, in the uniform of a high private.

"Where will I find Mr. Morgan?" asks the recruit.

"My name is Morgan. What will you have?"

"I came here to get some clothes washed."

"Ahem! Who sent you here to get your clothes washed?"

"John Smith, of the Sixth."

"Corporal of the guard!"

The corporal approached and saluted Morgan.

"Young man, go with the corporal and show him John Smith, so that he can bring him here. And you come back with him, and bring all the dirty clothes you have."

They departed, and soon returned with the guilty veteran and a huge armful of dirty shirts, socks, etc.

"Did you send this young man here to have his clothes washed?" said the General to Smith.

"Yes, sir, for a joke."

"For a joke? Well, we'll have the joke carried out. We do have clothes washed here sometimes. Corporal, take this man Smith and that bundle of clothes down to the creek, and have him wash them, fold them up neatly, and return them to the owner! See that he does the job up handsomely!"

The veteran went away to his work, sorrowfully, and the General resumed his walk.

CALEB CUSHING.—With the single exception of Mr. Adams, I never met a gentleman, in Congress or out, whose kind of information was so extensive, copious and exact as that of Mr. Cushing. He writes and speaks most of the languages of modern Europe with the facility, purity and precision of the most accomplished native, and he is a thorough classical scholar as well. Mr. Cushing came to Washington when quite young, and his appearance was more youthful than his years. Although a gentleman of great personal firmness, his bearing was modest, subdued and deferential. He spoke readily enough, and with uncommon accuracy; but he prepared whatever he had to say with great care, and generally wrote his speeches out at length. He appreciated the importance of being exact in his statements, and regular, consecutive, and logical in arrangement and argument. He was superior to the weakness often exhibited by men of distinguished ability of professing to speak from the inspiration of the moment. In fact he was free from affectation of every kind, and never denied or concealed the labor he bestowed on oral efforts. Sometimes he read his speeches, and occasionally, when discussing questions to which he had given much study, he spoke without notes or any evidence of preparation. Early in his first session Mr. Cushing read a carefully written argument on a subject of more than ordinary interest. The great ability displayed, and his appearance of extreme youth, attracted general interest. It so happened that his views ran counter to those of most of the western members, and old Ben Hardin, of Kentucky, a coarse, rude man of great intellectual vigor, likened by John Randolph to a "kitchen knife sharpened on a brickbat," replied to him in a strain in which invective was mingled with argument, and which was intentionally cutting and offensive. He evidently supposed Cushing to be a mere bookworm—a man of the closet—whom he could silence by a sarcasm. He knew Cushing's speech had been written out, and thought a harsh impromptu reply would crush the young man. But to his astonishment the rejoinder, made on the spur of the moment, turned the tables, and the House, which had heartily enjoyed the vituperative eloquence of Hardin, relished still more Cushing's tart and effective answer. Hardin flew into a passion, intimating a resort to the code duello, and assuming that a New England man would not respond to a demand for satisfaction, and gentlemen who did not recognize the doctrine of personal responsibility should be specially cautious and reserved in their language. If their own principles or the sentiments of their constituents prevented them from according satisfaction, certainly they should not give offense. Cushing's reply was admirable in tone, and unanswerable in its defiant protestation. He spoke with fluency, with great animation, and carried the House with him from the start. He was not responsible for the sentiments of his constituents, nor should he be governed by them in personal matters. He should avoid giving offense to honorable members, not from apprehension of disagreeable consequences, but from considerations of self respect and what was due to his peers in the House. While he should not intentionally wound the feelings of anybody, he should exact instant reparation when remarks were made derogatory to his character or injurious to his feelings. From that time forth Mr. Cushing was treated with marked respect and forbearance in all personal discussions.—[Harper's Magazine.

A Dangerous Atmosphere.

The great atmospheric wave which, the meteorologists tell us, now is over the whole United States from the Pacific coast at this season, is loaded with unwholesome vapors that chill the body and disturb all its functions. Perspiration is checked, the stomach is deranged, the bowels and the liver sympathize with that organ, the nerves and muscles are affected, pulmonary complaints are engendered, and the spirits are more or less depressed. These are among the common effects produced by the moist, ungenial winds prevalent in the winter months. But if the system is toned and fortified in advance with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, no danger need be apprehended from any condition of the atmosphere. The "ill wind that blows nobody any good" will not be likely to blow any harm to him who strengthens and regulates his internal organs with this wholesome vegetable tonic and alterative, and clothes his outside in a manner suitable to the season. The seeds of fever and ague and other diseases of an intermittent or remittent type, are now in the air, and are liable to be planted in the system, to germinate and bring forth bitter fruit, either immediately or at a later period, unless due sanitary precautions are taken to ward them off. Of all safeguards against malaria, this famous vegetable antidote is the best; and of all remedies for the painful ailments caused by damp, cold and sudden changes of temperature, such as rheumatism, chills, irregularities of the bowels, bilious attacks and indigestion, it is the most reliable and the most agreeable.

Persons so afflicted, if they take one or two boxes of these pills, and if the cough is there cured or suddenly stopped, the liver, liver and stomach cure, and remain torpid and inactive, and before the patient is aware of his situation, the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juice of the stomach, digests readily, nourishes the system, and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, and the patients is of a bilious habit, Schenck's mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared by Dr. J. H SCHENCK & SON, Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia. Can be had by sale by GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Boston, and John F. Cheny, 5 Astor place, New York, Wholesale Agents.

For sale by Druggists generally.

EVIDENCE OF SUCCESS.

DR. LIGHTHILL,

CAN BE CONSULTED AT THE

PERRY HOUSE,

During the whole day and evening of

Thursday, February 13th,

A CASE OF CHRONIC CATARRH OF 15 YEARS STANDING CURED BY DR. LIGHTHILL.

Home Testimony.

PROVIDENCE, July 10, 1872.

DR. A. P. LIGHTHILL:

Dear Sir:—I am happy to be able to say that I am entirely cured of the Catarrh, from which I have been suffering for nearly fifteen years. I had consulted other physicians and used other remedies before putting myself under your treatment, but received no permanent relief. My throat was in such a condition when I called upon you that I could not talk loud or read aloud five or ten minutes without suffering severely, and sometimes would not get over it in two or three days. To use a homely expression, my throat felt like a "raw sore," it is a little sensitive yet, but is growing stronger every day. I am free from Catarrh for some time, am taking no medicine, experience no pain whatever, and feel that by the help of God you have effected a permanent cure, for which I am truly grateful and cheerfully recommend your skill to others who are afflicted with that loath some disease, Catarrh in the head.

Yours, very truly,

WM. E. WHITING,

26 Brighton street, Providence, R. I.

COMPLETE CURE OF ASTHMA.

STATEMENT OF MR. MOSES E. IRWIN, PAWTUCKET, R. I.

DR. LIGHTHILL:

Dear Sir,—When Mrs. Irwin first consulted you with regard to her health, I had very little faith in any treatment, as to the result; but, after being under your treatment for the last few months, I am happy to say that she is entirely free from even the least symptoms of Asthma, and her general health greatly improved.

MOSES E. IRWIN,

PAWTUCKET, Jan. 13, 1872.

CURE OF CHRONIC COUGH AND CATARRHAL THROAT AFFECTION.

STATEMENT OF MR. E. F. RICHARDSON, PROVISION DEALER, PAWTUCKET, R. I.

DR. LIGHTHILL,—Dear Sir: Through the means of your treatment, my cough, from which I suffered for years very severely, has entirely left me, my throat is well, my lungs are stronger, and I can breathe with perfect ease. I take great pleasure in recommending you to others likewise afflicted.

E. F. RICHARDSON.

PAWTUCKET, May 11, 1871.

TO THE DEAF.

DR. LIGHTHILL:

Dear Sir:—Your treatment to my wife's case for deafness, of seven years standing, has resulted in complete success. Her hearing is perfectly restored, and the noises which troubled her so much heretofore, have entirely disappeared. By recommending you to the public as a skilful Aurist, I fulfill but a duty which I owe to those similarly afflicted, and do justice to you as a reliable physician.

S. GANO BENEDICT.

9 HIGH STREET, PAWTUCKET, March 4, 1871.

CURE OF DISCHARGES FROM THE EAR ATTENDED WITH DEAFNESS.

From Mr. and Mrs. William Dillon, Esq., Pascoag R. I.

To the Editor of the Patriot, Woonsocket, R. I.

We take pleasure in awarding to Dr. Lightbill a cheerful token of thankfulness for the remarkable cure performed on our son by him.

Our son had been afflicted almost from infancy with discharges from the ear, rendering him quite deaf. We were advised that he would outgrow it, and hoping for that result did nothing to arrest the diseases but as he grew up, instead of getting better he grew worse. The discharge became more offensive, and deafness increased upon him to such an extent that we feared his hearing would leave him entirely.

Hearing of Dr. Lightbill's reputation as a skillful Aurist, we placed our son under the doctor's care and the result is that he is entirely cured. His ears are free from those offensive discharges, and his hearing is perfectly well. I feel it a simple act of justice to Dr. L. that his skill should be known to those similarly afflicted.

MR. and MRS. WM. DILLON.

Pascoag, R. I., Aug 23, 1 70.

The Blind Restored to Sight

—AND THE—

Deaf are Made to Hear.

STATEMENT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT AND OVERSEER OF THE POOR OF PAWTUCKET, R. I.

We, the undersigned, cheerfully certify to the following cases, inmates of the Poor Farm, treated and operated upon with most gratifying results by Dr. LIGHTHILL, of Boston;

Catherine McDonald, aged 60, totally blind for eleven years, was restored to perfect sight by a most delicate and skillfully performed operation.

Martin McKeough, aged 45, unable to hear the human voice, even when spoken to in the loudest tone, for the past nine years, although but a short time under Dr. Lightbill's care, can now hear ordinary conversation.

Cases of such extreme nature, treated with such complete success, demonstrate the great ability of Dr. Lightbill, and establish him as a superior Physician in his specialty. We are confident by recommending him to those similarly afflicted, we confer a great favor upon them.

GENERAL NEWS.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

CLEANINGS IN GENERAL.

Thiers has been assured of the support of the Left Centre of the French Assembly.

The English government has again been attacked on account of the treaty of Washington, the Earl of Lauderdale in the House of Lords characterizing the whole treaty as the most humiliating ever negotiated by England.

An insurrection has broken out in Portugal provinces in Africa. Troops have been dispatched to the scene of the trouble.

The steamship Talisman foundered at sea on a voyage from the Brazilian ports to Hamburg, Twelve lives were lost. The barque Maria Saletta, from Liverpool for Philadelphia, was abandoned at sea. The crew landed at Scilly.

The abdication of the Spanish throne by Amadeus caused great excitement in Madrid Tuesday night.

FROM WASHINGTON.

CONGRESS.

In the United States Senate Tuesday, the bill continuing the Southern claims co-admission was passed. The House of Representatives passed the postage bill with amendments. The army appropriation bill was considered in committee of the whole, reported and passed.

THE NEW POSTAGE BILL.

The cheap postage bill had an unexpectedly easy time of it in the House Tuesday, and its friends say the Senate will not dare neglect or defeat it. The essential features of the bill are a reduction of letter postage to two cents for each half ounce, of daily newspaper postage to 60 cents per year—one-half the present rates, and free postage to weekly newspapers within the counties in which they are published. The effort of the publishers of "patent inside" papers to secure free postage was successful, and they will be placed on an equal footing with papers printed wholly at the place of publication.

THE MORMON QUESTION.

The House committee on the judiciary devoted Tuesday session to a discussion of Delegate Merritt's Mormon bill, but advanced no further than the third section, or about a fourth of the bill. The Mormon representatives here count on a lack of time and a division among the committee to save them from adverse legislation, but several members of the committee express themselves quite in earnest to report a bill and press its passage. The Senate judiciary committee makes slow progress toward a report and it is probable that neither Mr. Logan's nor Mr. Frelinghuysen's bill will be reported without important changes. Senator Pool is preparing a bill which meet with considerable favor among the committee and more with the Mormon interests outside, since it lets them off easily, touching only on the question of polygamy and not attempting to disturb the territorial and municipal system of Utah.

PERILS OF THE RAIL.

DETAILS OF THE TERRIBLE ACCIDENT ON THE ALLEGHANY VALLEY RAILROAD.

Further particulars of the accident on the Alleghany Valley Railroad, about nine miles from the village of Scrub Grass, are received in a N. Y. Times special. The train was an accommodation, seven cars in all,—six oil cars and one passenger coach. The train was thrown by a broken axle or a broken brake down an embankment thirty feet and into the Alleghany River. The oil in the six cars, 20,000 gallons, caught fire, and those of the passengers who could not escape were literally boiled in oil.—Those who escaped were burned, some of them quite severely, while scrambling from the river through a sheet of flame.

The passenger coach was an iron one.—It made several turns going down the embankment and sank in six feet of water.—Those who got out of it had to wade through water, on the surface of which the petroleum was burning furiously. The ground was covered with snow and ice.—The official report make but three killed, but it is thought there must be more. The conductor says the train was at the time going at the rate of between 15 and 20 miles an hour.

THE INFERIORITY OF MAN.—A MATHEMATICAL DEMONSTRATION.—The extreme idiocy of man was painfully exposed at the town hall, Manchester, on Friday by Miss Mary Beedy, M. A., of Antioch College, Ohio, United States, in a lecture on the higher education of women. It seems that the professor of civil engineering at Antioch College had been in the habit of giving to his classes every year a particular mathematical problem—a sort of "pons asinorum"—as a test of their ability. Not once during fifteen years had any member of the class solved it, though the professor had during that time propounded it to no fewer than 1500 young men. Many professors would, under these circumstances, have given it up as a bad job, and substituted some less crushing, test of ability of his pupils. Not so the professor of Antioch College, who manfully stuck to his problem, and last year, as usual, presented the old stumbling-block to his class. His perseverence was not without its reward, for this time the professor caught a fish. A certain Miss White, alone of all the classes, brought in the solution. The professor was thunderstruck, and gave vent to his amazement in the following observation to the gifted young lady. "You have done," he exclaimed, "what 1500 young men have tried, but failed to do." This well deserved compliment must have been most gratifying to Miss White, and it would be difficult to conceive any more ridiculous position than that occupied by the 1500 young men, who justly deserve universal contempt for having by their stupidity brought such discredit on a once honored sex. COMPOST HEAPS.—It is often recommended that when manure is thrown into heaps in the field it should be covered with a layer of earth to prevent the escape of the ammonia. The experiments of Dr. Voelker at the Royal Agricultural College at Cirencesters in England, have established the fact that the evaporation of ammonia from large heaps of manure goes on but slightly, for the reason that during the decomposition of the manure certain organic acids are formed at the same time the ammonia is involved, and then immediately unite with the ammonia, forming non-volatile compounds. There is an active escape of ammonia from the interior of large heaps, where the heat is too great for the chemical changes above referred to, but as it approaches the exterior part of the heap, where the heat is very much less, the ammonia is completely taken up by the organic acids and retained. There will be but a trifling escape of ammonia where there is sufficient moisture to retain it, for water absorbs and retains many a hundred times its bulk of ammonia gas at ordinary temperatures. These non-volatile compounds, from being highly soluble in water, are liable to be washed away at every rain storm, giving the well known color to the draining of manure heaps.

A PHANTOM ICE GORGE.—Night before last there was much excitement on the levee. Some gentlemen standing near the river looked up stream, and saw what they thought was a great ice gorge coming down, slowly but surely, towards the city. They gave the alarm, and many interested parties came down to the levee to witness the grand spectacle. The more they looked up stream the more they saw the wonderful sight. It looked like ice—like broken cakes of ice. It seemed to be moving, and there appeared to be a great commotion in the current, as if the river was on a rise. But the spectators, after gazing an hour or so, began to get tired, and thought the gorge was a long time coming. All at once, and while their straining eye-balls were about to burst, the fog lifted from the river and the light of the stars revealed the water, unobstructed and moving on towards the gulf.—[St. Louis Globe, 5th.

THE POPE AND NAPOLEON.—The Pope in receiving a large deputation of Germans the other day, alluding to the deceased Emperor Napoleon, said that those who avail themselves of the gifts of God to oppress and despoil the Church must end their days miserably and in remorse. At present sovereigns strive to destroy morality and to usurp the educational powers which belong to the Church. Those words of the Pope were enthusiastically cheered, we are told, by the members of the deputation.

DON'T

Be deceived, but for coughs, colds, sore throat, hoarseness and trouble at difficulties, use only

WELLS' CARBOLIC TABLETS,

Worthless Imitations are on the market, but the only scientific preparation of Carbolic Acid for Lung diseases is when Chemically combined with other well known remedies, as in these TABLETS, and all parties are cautioned against using any other.

In all cases of irritation of the mucous membranes these TABLETS should be freely used, their cleansing and healing properties are astonishing.

Be warned, never neglect a cold, it is easily cured in its incipient state, when it becomes chronic the cure is exceedingly difficult; use Wells' Carbolic Tablets as a specific.

We offer the small amount of Bonds remaining unsold, recommending them to all classes of investors as in every way safe and secure, besides rendering a larger income than any other first-class railway Bond upon the market. This instrument is especially designed for the perfect application of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of treatment by which this valuable remedy can be brought in contact with the entire diseased membrane of the nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which cases of Catarrh frequently exist, and from which it cannot be eliminated by other methods. The want of success in treating Catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. In using this instrument, the fluid is carried by its own weight, the snuffing, forcing or pumping being required. No one need fail in a full and gentle flowing of water to the highest part of the nasal passages, passing it forward through the nostrils, and the tubes and chambers communicating therewith, and flowing out of the opposite nostril. Persevere in its use, and a complete cure is sure to be effected.

Full and explicit directions accompany each instrument. When ordering this instrument, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy may be sent for. For recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" one or a few applications.

Symptoms of Catarrh. Frequent headache, discharge falling into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, bloody, &c. In others a dryness. Offensive breath, impaired sense of smell, taste, hearing, sight, dullness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, general debility, hawking and spitting to clear the throat, &c. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with the Improved Nasal Douche, and accompanied with the constitutional treatment which is recommended in the pamphlet that wraps each bottle of the Remedy, is the best specific for this loathsome disease and the proprietor offers, in good faith, $500 in gold for a case he cannot cure. The Remedy is mild and pleasant to use, and contains nothing of a caustic or poisonous character. Sold by druggists for 50 cents. Douche and Remedy, $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price.
